COUNCIL

'UNEVEN PAVING SLABS': Haverhill High Street

Pictures: Warren Gunn

'Fall ended in holiday blow for my friend'

A WOMAN had to cancel a holiday after falling and breaking a bone because of "dangerous" pavements, according to her friend.

She said the two of them had been walking together when her friend fell on loose and uneven pavement slabs in Haverhill High Street.

Passing strangers, including three teenage boys, ran to help the injured woman after she tumbled to the ground.

In an anonymous letter to the News, the woman's friend said she wanted to highlight the dangerous pavements after hearing about multiple falls.

She wrote: "I had the experience of being with a friend recently who had a fall

RACHAEL MCMEENEMY
@rach\_mc94CN

there. This resulted in a broken bone, having to cancel a holiday and being shook up for days afterwards.

"The fact is, this is happening apparently quite frequently in Haverhill High Street. This is totally unacceptable in this age of health and safety."

According to her, there are many areas where the pavement is uneven or loose and she has called on the council to fix the issues immediately.

A spokesman for Suffolk County Council said: "The High Street in Haverhill is inspected regularly and any defects found which meet our criteria for repair are made safe while permanent repairs are arranged and completed.

"Following a recent inspection, repairs have been arranged at several locations within the High Street.

"While we carry out regular highways inspections, we also rely on reports from the public to put us in the best possible position to be able to respond quickly and effectively to highway issues.

"We welcome all feedback from residents and encourage people to report any highways related concerns to us via the council's highways reporting tool at www.suffolk.gov.uk/highways."

CRIME

Not jelly nice: Slippery vandals cover play equipment in Vaseline

@rach_mc94CN

PARENTS were left "fuming" a children's play park was smeared in Vaseline.

The sticky substance was slathered on every piece of equipment, including climbing equipment and slides.

Steve Zimmer's daughter Rhyley, 10, discovered the slippery, dangerous mess in Shetland Road Playpark, in Haverhill when she went out to play on Friday night.

Mr Zimmer, 29, who lives in Shetland Road, said: "I don't even want to think about what could have happened. It's so dangerous, a child could so easily have slipped and fallen on their back or neck."

"It's so dangerous, it shouldn't happen. I was fuming. I didn't know who did it and it might have been with the intent to harm."

"Obviously it's the school holidays as well, meaning there are more children and we have lots of younger children playing there, kids as young as three or four and there was no care for them."

Confused and concerned about what the mess in the park might have been, Mr Zimmer returned with Rhyley to investigate.

He said: "My daughter likes going to the park because it's fairly local. She said: 'Dad, I can't go on, there's white sticky stuff on the climbing bits.'

"At first I thought it was probably just bird poo but when I went back to the park with her and took a close look it was clearly Vaseline."

Rhyley, worried that other children might get hurt, insisted on making signs to warn others.

Mr Zimmer said: "She

VANDALISM: Vaseline has been smeared on play equipment in Shetland Road Playpark wanted to check where else was covered. It was over the whole play area, everywhere kids would put their hands and feet.

"The slide is made up of two poles and you have to sit on them to go down it, with that all covered in Vaseline anyone trying to go down it would have slipped right through and really injured themselves."

"Whoever it was might have done it as a prank or to have a laugh, watching friends fall, but even so it's still to hurt people."

Mr Zimmer reported the incident to Suffolk Police, who are classing the crime as anti-social behaviour.

A spokesman from Suffolk

Police said: "We received reports at 8.30pm on Friday evening of what appeared to be Vaseline smeared over climbing equipment, making it unsafe, and we notified the council for the cleaning of the equipment."

"Anyone with any information about the crime should contact Haverhill Police on 101 referencing CAD 459 of August 18."

When Mr Zimmer went back on Saturday afternoon he says the park had been cleaned, but reported that other people have mentioned it happening to the same park before.

A spokesperson for St Edmundsbury Borough Council, which manages the park, said: "Our play area inspector is assessing the situation and has also checked nearby play areas for similar damage."

"Any concerns about the safety of play equipment can be reported directly to us using the contact details available at every council play area, and we ask the public to get in touch, so we can ensure the high standards expected."

After posting the warning signs Mr Zimmer says he's had nothing but praise for Rhyley's actions.

He added: "There is a lot of anger it has happened at all but a lot of people are praising Rhyley for helping and not wanting anything bad to happen."

German boy's Suffolk studies

THIS 18-year-old schoolboy shunned Germany to move to Newmarket and Haverhill to study, and now he is off to one of the UK's top universities.

Tarik Schoehl moved to England when he was 15 on a scholarship in the hope it would improve his English.

Tarik said: "I originally decided to move to England for a year to improve my English. I went to Newmarket Academy and took my GCSEs. I got good GCSE results so I decided to stay in England to do my A-levels."

With Newmarket Academy unable to provide the subjects, Tarik desperately wanted and needed to study he made the move to Haverhill.

But funding soon dried up, and unable to get a scholarship, the intrepid teen took it upon himself to 'sell himself' to German companies to fund his studying.

For the next two years Tarik wrote to 30 companies in Germany asking for funding which helped to partially cover costs and lived with host families throughout his time in West Suffolk.

He said: "While I was doing my GCSEs, my English was improving, I made some good friends and I was really enjoying my time in England. I was fortunate that I never suffered from homesickness – I feel at home anywhere.

RACHAEL MC MENEMY

"I was doing so well at Newmarket that I thought I might as well stay in this country. I knew Newmarket Academy and Samuel Ward Academy were part of the same trust, and I thought this would be a good way to get into a good English university.

"I felt part of life in Suffolk. I quickly made friends in both Newmarket and Haverhill."

After receiving outstanding A-level results at Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill – A* maths, A in further maths, A in physics and B in chemistry.

He said: "I was really pleased with my A-level results. I was relatively confident in maths and physics – but I was less certain about the other two."

Tarik is now off to study Maths at Durham University in September.

School's last ever A-levels

STUDENTS at Castle Manor Academy in Haverhill broke records with the school's last ever A-level results.

Its sixth form shut at the end of the summer term in 2017 but the school has gone out on a massive high with the largest number of A* and A grades.

This year's results show that 89 per cent of courses were passed at grades A*-E and an increased number of A and A* grades, reaching the highest ever for the school at 29 per cent.

Vanessa Whitcombe,

RACHAEL MC MENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

headteacher at Castle Manor, said: "These students are a fantastic year group and we are exceptionally proud of them and their achievements."

"We would all like to wish them all the very best for their future, where we know they will achieve great things."

"These outcomes come as the result of a huge amount of hard work from students, supported by their teachers."

Some of the universities pupils are off to include Anglia Ruskin and Derby.

Tim Coulson, chief executive of the Samuel Ward Academy Trust, of which Castle Manor Academy has been a member since December, said: "We are proud to see the first results at the school since it joined the trust and wish the young people every success as they go onto the next stage of their lives."

The offence allegedly took place in a South Cambridgeshire village in May, 2017.

He was bailed on the conditions he does not have unsupervised contact with any child aged 16 years or under.

Wells will next appear in Cambridge Crown Court on September 19.

Voluntary group grants

APPLICATIONS are now open for constituted voluntary and community groups in Haverhill South to apply for grants of up to £1,000.

Local groups are invited to apply for the small pots of funding to make their community an even better place to live.

The funding is being awarded by Haverhill South People's Forum, which was formed by residents, with support from Community Action Suffolk.

The Forum was set up as part of the Local Conversation in Haverhill South – a People's Health Trust initiative which involves supporting residents to develop a shared vision for their community and take local action on issues that matter to them.

At the start of the Local Conversation in Haverhill South, residents said that health and wellbeing, children, young people and families, and support to local organisations working in the community were some of the most important priorities in the neighbourhood.

David Smith, Haverhill South People's Forum Chairman, said: "The Forum aims to develop a sustainable and supportive community. We are pleased to offer a second round of small grants funding which benefit our local community and we are actively looking for new projects to support."

The previous round of funding benefited over 1,000 local residents including signposting for young people suffering from anxiety or depression, outdoor learning, Haverhill South Fruit Bank, Haverhill Dementia Café and a support group for mums.

Local organisation Soup-A-Lunch, a lunch and social group for people over 60, also received funding. Joan Key, the project's coordinator, said: "The Forum's small grants funding was vital to us. It means we can support our members throughout the year and we can not only provide hot meals in the colder months for local residents, but also a safe, social place for people to get together and have a chat."

Applicants can request for up to £1,000 from a total fund of £15,000. The deadline for applications is midday on Friday, September 15.

Do you suffer hearing loss?

CHARITY Action on Hearing Loss (formerly RNID) is inviting people in Haverhill who are deaf or have hearing loss or tinnitus to join the charity's research panel and help influence its work.

Panelists will have regular opportunities to take part in the UK's largest hearing loss charity's research projects by completing short surveys as well as through one-to-one interviews and focus groups. Evidence gathered through the research will inform Action on Hearing Loss's policy, services and campaigning work for a world where hearing loss doesn't limit or label people, tinnitus is silenced and where people value and look after their hearing.

Action on Hearing Loss Director of Policy & Campaigns, Dr Roger Wicks, says: "We'd be grateful if Haverhill residents would get involved in our panel, which we hope offers a great opportunity to feed in their first-hand experience of hearing loss and highlight everyday issues that will help shape our future work, supporting people who are deaf or have hearing loss or tinnitus to live their lives to the full."

Pupils celebrate as academy posts best-ever A-level results

A-LEVEL students at Samuel Ward Academy are celebrating after achieving the school's best-ever results for top grades.

The school broke its record for their best set of A*-B results in the exams.

A total of 93 pupils studied level 3 courses in the sixth form this year and, overall, they achieved 48 per cent A*-B grades and 73 per cent A*-C grades.

The overall pass rate was 97 per cent.

Kath Just, headteacher at the Haverhill school, said: "I am extremely proud of every student and of their commitment and dedication to their studies.

"After the pressure of exams, it is a pleasure to see that their hard work has paid off, ensuring that they can look forward to a wonderfully successful future. We wish each and every one of them the very best in all they do."

Notable student achievements included Haydn Lathangue, who gained A* in maths and A grades in chemistry and biology, and is taking a gap year before going on to study medicine.

Maisie Bott and Tarek Schoechl both attained an A* in maths, A in further maths, A in physics and B in chemistry. They are taking up places to study maths at university.

Although Alice Iron already had an unconditional offer from the University of Nottingham to study English, she achieved an A in English literature, A in geography and A in history.

Dr Tim Coulson, chief executive of the Samuel Ward Academy Trust, said: "These results mean that pupils can go on to university, apprenticeships and work with the qualifications they need to succeed.

"We wish the young people every success as they go onto the next stage of their lives."

Reports of child neglect across Suffolk hit an all-time high

RACHAEL MC MENEMY

@rach_mc94CN

REPORTS of child neglect have hit an all time high across Suffolk in the last year.

The NSPCC has revealed its referrals of child neglect to police and social services in Suffolk has gone up by 20 per cent in a year with the service referring five children a week.

In Suffolk, the number of referrals spiked by 41 per cent in 2016/17 on the previous year, making it the highest ever number of child neglect reports in the county.

Peter Wanless, chief executive of the NSPCC said: "Neglect can have severe and long-lasting consequences for children, and can also be an indicator of other forms of abuse. This is why it is so important for anyone suspecting a child of being neglected to contact the NSPCC helpline, so we can alert the authorities to quickly step in and help those in need."

"At the same time, it is vital we understand the true nature and scale of child neglect in the UK so we can

SHOCKING FIGURES:
Reports of child neglect have hit an all-time high. Picture posed by a model collectively tackle the fundamental causes. Therefore, a Government commissioned, nationwide prevalence study on child abuse and neglect needs to be conducted, and sooner rather than later."

UK-wide, the NSPCC made 16,882 referrals to children's services or the police in 2016/17, equivalent to 46 a day.

On average four reports of child neglect were passed to police and social services every week with 235 made for the whole of 2016/17.

Child neglect was mentioned in more than a quarter of all calls to the NSPCC Helpline in the last year. This rise shows more people are willing to speak up about the issue.

The NSPCC also said that a growing number of people also described parents having drink or drug problems, with some regularly leaving their children unsupervised so they could go drinking with friends.

The NSPCC is calling on the government to begin a nationwide study to measure the full extent of child abuse and neglect in the UK.

The charity have issued the following list of warning signs of abuse to be aware of.

Common signs and symptoms adults may notice in a child who is being neglected include:

- Poor appearance and hygiene, they may be smelly or have unwashed clothes
- Living in an unsuitable home environment for example dog mess being left or not having any heating
- Left alone for a long time
- Untreated injuries, medical and dental issues; they may have skin sores, rashes, flea bites, scabies or ringworm
- Poor language, communication or social skills
- Seem hungry or turn up to school without having breakfast or any lunch money

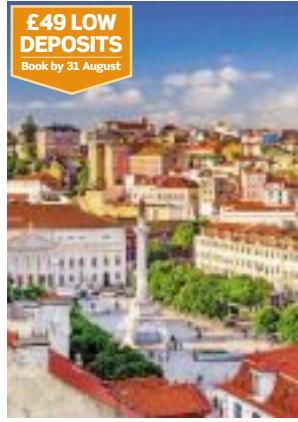

Adults can contact the NSPCC Helpline 24 hours a day, 365 days a year on 0808 800 5000, or help@nsppc.org.uk

LEISURE

SLIDE RULES: How the new rink could look

We're on the rink of something special . . .

CONSTRUCTION of a 1,000-spectator ice arena is due to begin "imminently" following the signing of a £1.85 million council loan agreement.

The 56-metre by 26-metre permanent ice rink will be based off Newmarket Road, Cambridge, and is expected to open next summer.

The finalisation of the legal conditions of the loan from South Cambridgeshire District Council to Cambridge Leisure and Ice Centre (CLIC) now allows the project to enter the construction stage.

The loan, which was approved by the full council last year, was the final piece of funding necessary to allow CLIC to begin building work on site via its development partner, Cool Venues.

The arena will be built on land leased from Marshall of Cambridge, near the Newmarket Road park and ride site.

Members of the public and sporting groups will be able to use the facility, which developers say will be constructed using technologies that will make it one of the most energy efficient ice rinks in the UK.

Before identifying the land at Newmarket Road, CLIC had been searching for a site in and around Cambridge to locate a rink for more than 20 years.

Residents will be able to enjoy a permanent ice arena in addition to the popular rink that arrives on Parker's Piece at Christmas time every year.

Cllr Simon Edwards, South Cambridgeshire District Council's cabinet member for finance, said he was pleased that the signing of the loan agreement could allow construction work to start.

He added: "I know this rink has been in the pipeline for many years, but I'm confident we will soon have one of the best ice facilities in the country."

Prof Bill Harris, chairman of CLIC, also expressed his "delight" that the organisation had "bridged our funding gap" with the council loan.

He said: "Our thanks also go to Marshall for providing a brilliant venue for the project, to Cambridge University, specifically the alumni of the ice hockey teams who have provided the majority of the funding, and also to many members of the local community who have donated funds and hard work to get this new exciting community ice arena on the map.

"With just a few minor items to finalise, the Cambridge Ice Arena will be starting construction imminently."

Robert Marshall, group chief executive of Marshall, said: "We are delighted the new ice rink is finally in a position to proceed, and combined with our support in providing a site we believe the new facility will be an excellent location for the Cambridge community to enjoy ice skating activities."

A CARING, QUALITY SERVICE FROM BELGRAVE HOUSE

Located in the village of Linton, Belgrave House Veterinary Surgery has been caring for animals in the local community since 1985. The surgery was established by David and Val Urwin, who still run the practice and work hard to provide a caring, quality service for all pets and livestock, with the help of their friendly team of 3 vets, 2 nurses and 3 receptionists.

Val says: "Being a small, independent practice allows us to provide the warm, friendly and personal service you and your pet deserve. We aim to ensure continuity in the treatment of all pets by our experienced veterinary surgeons, two of whom now have more than 35 years' experience.

"If any case requires the expertise of veterinary specialists we can easily arrange referral to the most appropriate of facilities in the South East. In some cases the specialist will come and examine your pet at the practice."

Specialists who regularly visit the practice include cardiologist Paul Smith and ophthalmologist David Williams. Belgrave House Veterinary Surgery is able to supply full medical and surgical care and has digital x-ray, ultrasound and blood chemistry analyser facilities on site.

David says: "We are blessed with wonderful clients and we will always go the extra mile to ensure they and their pets get the best service possible.

"We are pleased to offer home visits for those occasions when it is not possible or desirable for our patients to visit us at the surgery."

It is perhaps no surprise then that the majority of new clients come via recommendation from existing clients, many of whom have been registered with this practice since it opened.

The veterinary surgery is open Monday to Friday from 8.30am to 7pm and Saturday from 8.30am to 12 noon. The out of hours emergency service is provided at the surgery in Linton by the same caring team. Belgrave House Veterinary Surgery is situated at 139 High Street, Linton, Cambridge, CB21 4JT.

For more information or to make a consultation appointment please call the surgery on (01223) 893720. Consultations are by appointment only. If you would like to join this exceptional team they are currently looking for a part-time qualified veterinary nurse.

Billie does the unthinkable

There's doggy delights in store on Friday 25 August, we have The Hairy Maclary and Friends Show at 1.30pm and 4pm. The scruffy black dog and his friends, the dachshund Schnitzel von Krumm, the dalmatian Bottomley Potts, the old English sheepdog Muffin McClay go on many an adventure; it sounds a bit like the Famous Five but with lashings of bones rather than ginger beer. The books by Lynley Dodd provide the inspiration and the tom-cat Scarface Claw provides the element of danger.

On Wednesday, August 30, at 7pm there's a live broadcast from The Royal Shakespeare Company, Titus Andronicus. Shakespeare's gory revenge tragedy provides us with murder as entertainment and poses questions about sexuality, family, class and society.

Yerma (Thursday, August 31) is a National Theatre live broadcast starring Billie Piper as a woman driven to the unthinkable by her desperate desire to have a child. This radical production of Federico Garcia Lorca's play is set in contemporary London with 21st century speech rather than in rural Spain but is loyal to the original and Billie Piper, according to reviews, is 'earth-quaking'. Both the big men Bon Scott and Brian Johnson are represented in Live/Wire, The AC/DC tribute show. Get Back in Black with this high voltage, two hour gig which belts out and hit after hit on Friday, September 1.

Saturday morning this week (September 2) sees the return of the ever popular Table Top Sale. Like a car-boot but without the threat of a soggy bottom. Grab a bargain between 10am and 1pm.

Shirley MacLaine and Amanda Seyfried star in The Last Word, Shirls' plays a business woman who wants to write her own obituary. Makes me wonder what part of her life she's trying to write out. Find out on Friday, August 25, at 7.30pm. Colin Farrell uses his eyebrows to great seductive effect in The Beguiled on Tuesday, August 29. In this remake of the Clint Eastwood film, directed by Sofia Coppola, Colin plays a Union soldier who receives shelter at a girls' boarding school and in doing froths all those holed up feminine hormones into an absolute frenzy. Whether it's down to Colin or something in the water remains debatable.

An unlikely romance blossoms when an American widow (Diane Keaton) meets a social recluse living wild on Hampstead Heath (Brendan Gleeson). Annie Hall with added dandelions? Be charmed with Hampstead on Monday, September 4, at 1.30pm.

The much admired Dunkirk is playing at the Arts Centre on Tuesday, September 5 (and again on the 13 and 25). Christopher Nolan's film charts the evacuation of more than 330,000 Allied troops from the beaches of Dunkirk in 1940. The ensemble cast includes Fionn Whitehead, Cillian Murphy, Mark Rylance, Tom Hardy and, in a surprise move, Harry Styles of 1D fame.

We are showing The Zookeeper's Wife (postponed from July) on Wednesday, September 6.

It is the story of a couple who risk their lives, in the Second World War, to use their once thriving zoo as a front to smuggle hundreds of Jews to safety.

Coming up, we have Wrong Stewart and the Farces (Friday, September 8), Irish singer Steve Smyth on Sunday, September 10 and on the September 14, Carole King's Tapestry in Concert – a show celebrating one of the world's best-ever selling albums (Tapestry) and a selection of Carole King's other pop classics.

OME 13 years ago when the diminutive Kia Picanto first broke cover, it had the city car market pretty much to itself.

The European makers couldn't quite envisage its gadget-crazed buyers rushing to queue for a basic set of wheels little bigger than a skateboard.

That, of course was pre-recession. Well, post 2008 micro-cars and city cars were in demand and big names like Renault, the VW Group and Toyota jumped on the bandwagon.

But the baby Kia had already established itself as a well-priced, reliable and sturdy built runabout.

Now the third generation Picanto has joined the fray . . . a much more crowded sector, with greater expectations and more sophistication.

With its bang up-to-date 'tiger' nose – a Kia hallmark – the new Picanto is stronger, more roomy and has an air of refinement that didn't feature in earlier models.

Its chunky upright styling is of-the-moment and pleasing to the eye, as well as being a practical method of making the most use of the cabin dimensions.

The version I drove, the Picanto 2 1.0-litre is powered by a three-cylinder engine that boasts a modest 66bhp. Not exactly enough to cause reworks under the bonnet but sufficient to allow the five-door to easily keep up with the traffic and to eventually reach a maximum of 100mph.

The three-pot engine emits a pleasant and distant throb that remains smooth most of the way through the rev band.

Push it hard and the engine note becomes a little harsh above 4,000rpm but there's rarely any need to punish the eager little unit in this way.

JON SMITH

Space in the cabin is more generous than the last version and better than most rivals. There's ample width to allow good elbow room up front and the high setting of the dash means plenty of knee and legroom up front.

The facia is attractively designed with easy to read dials and there are cup holders and a place for a water bottle, making it a practical, family friendly environment.

Rear seat passengers sit fairly upright allowing decent chance to stretch their legs and the seats themselves are much more comfortable than the previous model. Boot space at 255 litres is about average but the rear seats can be folded flat expanding the cargo area to more than 1,000 litres, among the best in class.

Priced at £10,750, the Picanto 2 is one the better equipped city cars.

Included in the spec are tinted glass, leather trimmed steering wheel, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, four speaker audio system, tyre pressure monitoring indicator and air con.

It's not uncommon for small cars which carry little weight to have a choppy or somewhat bouncy ride. But the Picanto is settled and compliant over all but the most scarred road surfaces which helps make it a relaxing hatch for longer distances.

The power steering is pleasantly weighted although there's feedback to the driver.

The five-speed manual gearbox is light with an easy precise action. The larger 1.2-litre engine has the option of an automatic gearbox.

Reassuringly, Kia provides a seven year warranty on the Picanto as it does on all their range.

Are you driving a future classic?

FROM the highest priced luxury marques to mass market family saloons, most new cars lose part of their value the minute they're driven off the dealer forecourt and continue to depreciate as they get older.

But there are some affordable cars on the road that could become valuable collectors' cars in the future according to BCA, the used vehicle marketplace. Ahead of a special sale at its Nottingham centre on August 26, the company has listed its top five future classics.

BCA's Top Five Future Classics since the turn of the century:

Mini Convertible/Cabrio (2005-2008): Always desirable, with early models continuing to hold their price well. Demand is set to remain high for the Convertible editions, while the Clubman and Countryman models also have carved themselves a decent niche in the market.

Jaguar XKR Supercharged (2000-2006): Added to the XK8 range in 2000, this model boasted a 370 BHP British-made engine and received ecstatic reviews at the time of its launch. This beautifully proportioned coupe is now very affordable.

Citroen C3 Pluriel (2003-2010): The Citroen C3 Pluriel is a modern supermini with retro sensibilities. It is also a convertible or a 'pick-up' with the rear seats folded – a combination of useability and quirkiness that seems set to grant it collectable status in the future.

Mazda RX8 (2003 -2012): Early models are now very affordable and quirky enough, with its rotary engine and suicide doors, to get classic status in the years ahead.

Vauxhall Omega V6 (to 2003): Essentially a souped-up family saloon, the Omega V6 was a favourite pursuit vehicle for Police forces around the country up until it ceased production in 2003. The 3.2 V6 Elite will always be desirable and has a very high specification to go alongside a top speed of 142 MPH.

"If you want a car that has a good chance of gaining classic status in the years ahead – plus the premium values that go hand in hand with that – then there are some interesting choices available to used car buyers," said Stuart Pearson, MD BCA.

The Future Classics sale takes place at BCA Nottingham, Victoria Business Park, NG4 2PE, commencing at 10.30am.

More than 100 interesting and unusual vehicles are consigned for the sale with numbers continuing to rise as the sale date approaches.

Among the cars on offer, the 2014/64 Aston Martin V12 Vantage Sportshift Coupe will certainly attract a lot of attention from buyers. Finished in black and sitting on 19" alloy wheels, this high performance sports car has covered just over 4,000 warranted miles. Equipment includes climate control, satellite navigation, parking sensors and leather trimmed interior and, when new, these cars cost £138,000.

Those looking for a more sedate ride, the 2001/51 Bentley Arnage 6.8 Red Label Saloon is finished in silver and has a warranted mileage of 46,000. The cream leather and burr walnut interior underlines the quality of the craftsmanship that goes into the manufacture of these ultimate 'Gentlemen's Carriages'.

CLASSIC: Mini Convertible

Finished in classic Rosso Red with black trim, the 1984 Ferrari Mondial 2.9 Coupe looks every inch a supercar, with red leather 2+2 interior, aluminium gear shift, black leather instrument console and top of the range radio/cassette. Ideal for a remake of Miami Vice!

A pair of 2000-registered Rover Mini Classic Cooper models will interest enthusiasts. The modified example in red with white rally stripes, wide wheel arches and folding fabric sunroof will make an interesting project requiring some light restoration. The standard bodied example in blue with Union Jack roof also requires restoration and is competitively valued to reflect that.

Starter classics on offer include the 1998 Jaguar XK8 4.0 looks stunning in silver with black leather interior, the 2003 Mazda MX-5 1.6 Roadster is an affordable convertible in silver with black soft top, while the Mercedes-Benz C300 Estate is an interesting alternative off-road vehicle that would benefit from a cosmetic restoration.

Rally championship dates are announced

AS THE exciting 2017 title race heads to Ulster this weekend, the Preston MSA British Rally Championship (BRC) has his week confirmed its 2018 calendar.

The series will feature six rounds in six territories, as the BRC tours the British Isles, with events in Scotland, England, Northern Ireland, Isle of Man and Wales. A trip to Belgium for the classic Ypres Rally will once again be a popular overseas addition, as the BRC underlines its standing as the world's premier domestic rally championship.

One of the highlights of the 2018 campaign will be the championship finale at the Dayinsure Wales Rally GB, the British round of the FIA World Rally Championship. A double-header format will allow competitors to go toe-to-toe with the leading names in world rallying.

2018 Prestone MSA British Rally Championship calendar:

March 10-11: Border Counties Rally, Jedburgh; April 28-29: Pirelli International Rally, Carlisle; June 29-30: Rennies Ypres Rally, Ypres, Belgium; August 17-18: John Mulholland Motors Ulster Rally, Derry; September 13-14: 15: 138.com Rally Isle of Man, Douglas, Isle of Man; October: Dayinsure Wales Rally GB.

In a world of uncertainty, Rexton is ready for action

DRIVING through the demilitarised zone that divides North and South Korea sounds a crazy idea in the current climate of red alert.

Yet with the world seemingly on a knife edge, the South Koreans appear unfazed by all the sabre rattling.

And when you are the nation's leader in off-road vehicles, the muddy tracks criss-crossing the banks of the Hantanang River that snakes alongside the DMZ are a natural location to show off your latest creation.

So with its eyes on the skies – in more ways than one – Korean all-wheel-drive specialist SsangYong is moving very much upmarket with its all-new Rexton SUV.

Packing almost as much refinement as a Range Rover, the new Rexton is good enough to change perceptions about a brand that has made its name in Britain at the budget end of the market.

And true to form, SsangYong is pitching the Rexton at a price which makes it something of an SUV supernova.

The five model line up will start from £27,500 when the new Rexton arrives in the UK this October with the range topping automatic – with Mercedes-Benz gearbox and Bentley-esque quilted leather upholstery – costing £10,000 more.

It is new territory for SsangYong and in keeping with such elevated status, the company is about to become part of the international equestrian fraternity as the new title sponsor for the Blenheim Palace International Horse Trials which kick off in September.

The Rexton is well placed as a capable 4x4 that can tow up to 3.5 tonnes and can be used as a seven seater.

The Ultimate model is five seats only and features a 820 litre boot, extending to 1,997 litres with the back seats down which makes it one of the most cavernous cars around.

From a practical perspective the Rexton is quite a proposition and it is decked out in a way that sets new standards for SsangYong.

Ultimate specification features a 9.2-inch high definition touchscreen housing TomTom sat nav technology and a communications set up compatible with both smartphone systems.

Driving aids include lane departure warning, blind spot monitors and automatic emergency braking while the electronic parking brake includes an automatic function – another high end feature.

There is even a surround view camera system which comes into its own when manoeuvring, hitching up a trailer or off-roading where a split screen display can show the terrain around the vehicle.

It is unexpected grandeur from the Korean marque and the feast of features goes on with the likes of a heated steering wheel, heated and ventilated front seats, heated rear seats and a 220-volt power inverter housed in the back of the centre console.

In its homeland SsangYong has the same reverie for 4x4s as Land Rover does over here and the latest Rexton is already proving a hit with sales hitting the 7,000 mark in just two months since it was launched in May – that's more than the previous model sold in Korea in the whole of last year.

In Britain the Rexton will be available only as a diesel and powered by SsangYong's 2.2-litre Euro 6 engine.

Developing 181ps and with a good amount of pull from as low as 1,600 revs the Rexton has a top speed of 115mph and a 0 to 60 time of around 11.5 seconds.

SsangYong claims an official fuel return of 34.8mpg from the seven seat automatic and 36.2 for manual models. The seven seaters are slightly thirstier and emissions range from 204 to 218g/km.

Expansion of the Peugeot 108 range

PEUGEOT has expanded its 108 range for summer with the addition of the Collection and TOP! Roland Garros trim levels.

These new models bolster the existing 108 range at the start of the Peugeot Summer Drive initiative, which includes finance packages.

Priced from £13,380 it comes in a choice of five exterior colours with contrasting interiors.

Added practicality comes in the form of a seven-in colour touchscreen, colour reversing camera, electric and heated door mirrors and Peugeot's 'open and go' keyless entry system.

The range-topping 108 TOP! Roland Garros model is priced from £14,460 and features an orange retractable electric fabric roof plus satellite navigation, open and go, automatic air conditioning and a colour reversing camera accessed through the seven-inch colour touchscreen offering connectivity via USB, Bluetooth and PEUGEOT Mirror Screen and providing the interface for the audio system, including DAB digital radio, trip computer and vehicle settings.

Cycling

Trio to achieve cycling ambition: riding for GB

THREE members of the Haverhill club have booked their places in the UCI Granfondo World Championships in France later this month when they will be pitched against some of the world's finest amateur riders.

Andy Barratt, Owen Chapple and Simon Plant have all achieved qualifying times for the road race event in Albi on August 27 – but each has had his own particular qualification journey.

Chapple, a 40-year-old customer service manager, co-ordinated the club's first eastern region road race league round, based in Thurlow.

For Barratt, 36, the opportunity to wear the GB jersey means so much as it has come exactly a year after being airlifted to Addenbrooke's Hospital by the East of England Air Ambulance after being involved in a major motorcycle accident in which he suffered a fractured spine, ankle and shoulder. At one point the opportunity to ride a bike again was in doubt for the PE teacher.

Plant, senior director of product management, is often found sailing at Grafham Water, and is a relative newcomer to the sport, only taking up cycling in 2015, aged 40.

The three are indebted to the help and support they have received from staff at Aerocycles, whose proprietor, Steve Foster, would ordinarily be joining the team because of his own successful qualification times.

CHARLIE Holmes scored a brace as Haverhill Borough beat Ilford 5-2 in an FA Cup, preliminary round replay on Tuesday night.

Borough were keen to make a strong start to the game on the back of Saturday's 1-1 draw at Ilford, and it took less than a minute for Holmes to put the hosts in front.

Ryan Swallow added a second following good work by Ryan Phillips in the 25th minute, but Ilford fought back and halved the deficit in the 39th minute.

The visitors had a bright spell in the moments leading up to half time, but a sweeping breakaway from a corner ended with Phillips increasing the lead to make it

Borough increased their lead to 4-1 in the first minute of the second half from the penalty spot.

Ryan Weaver was brought down by the Ilford keeper and Holmes converted the spot kick.

Ilford reduced the arrears with their second goal, but Borough skipper Casey Phillips completed the scoring with a towering header from a corner with 15 minutes remaining.

Borough will now host Kings Langley in the first qualifying round next weekend. But there was disappointment for Haverhill Rovers in their replay after they lost 6-1 at Heybridge Swifts.

Swifts scored three times in the opening 10 minutes and added two more goals to lead 5-0 at half time.

The hosts made it 6-0 just after the hour, before Rory Jebb netted a consolation for Rovers five minutes from time.

On Saturday, Rovers had to come from behind to set up the midweek replay.

Despite being reduced to 10 men after having a player sent off, Heybridge took the lead in the 18th minute.

Aaron Forshaw hit the crossbar in the 74th minute but Rovers equalised moments later when Jordan Palmer fired home.

Dellar's side defeated as Aussie rules with century

In MARSHALL Hatchick League, Division One, Haverhill suffered a 39-run defeat by second-placed Wivenhoe whose Australian batsman Liam Hope-Shackley proved to be the difference.

Hope-Shackley scored a century and formed the mainstay of the Wivenhoe innings as they posted 256.

Haverhill lost skipper Adam Dellar early in their innings before a decent partnership between Anthony Phillips and Chris Palmer brought them back into the game.

But when Phillips was dismissed for a half-century the innings stalled and an unbeaten half-century from Dave Humphrey was not enough as Haverhill finished on 217 for 8.

"We were in this game for long periods and the Australian overseas player was the main difference," said Dellar.

"We have some crucial games coming up over the next couple of weeks and we really need to win at least two of our four remaining fixtures to give ourselves a chance of avoiding relegation."

Haverhill's second XI fared better, beating Brockley by 82 runs in Division Three of the Two Counties League.

Haverhill posted a decent 216 for 6 before bowling the visitors, two places above them in the table, out for 134.
